Research Solutions

iResearch is a valuable tool for your recruiting needs. By Partnering with our clients, we at RMS direct the focus of the iResearch project to provide specific, timely & in-depth information to obtain exceptionally talented professionals.

Our broad spectrum of industries worldwide gives clients the connections needed to make an immediate impact on their human capital business objectives.

Process

At RMS, we utilize advanced methodology to perform in-depth, proactive research of all types of industries and skill levels. Proactive research by RMS iResearch provides direct access to a professional that is currently performing the job you are seeking to fill.

The valuable research data you receive can be used to target companies that have employees you want to attract to your organization.

The Result?

Accurate and valuable information about companies, employees, and organizational structure.

Names, titles, and phone numbers of currently employed professionals in your industry.

We will provide you with contact information, or take it to the next step and perform the screening and recruiting for you.
